Taking care of every detail

2

It's never easy to talk with family or friends about final wishes, and often these conversations don't happen.

This pack has been created to help you record what matters most to you, including your personal wishes for your funeral. By doing so, you can make things easier for those you leave behind and give yourself peace of mind.

Inside, you'll find guidance and simple forms to complete at your own pace, either privately or as a starting point for conversations with loved ones. Once finished, the pack can be sealed and kept with a trusted person, legal representative, or Crosbie Matthew.

All information is treated as strictly private and confidential, to be held safely until it is needed.

This pack allows you to record details and personal requests that are meaningful to you. Funeral arrangements can include choices that others may not be aware of, these may include:

- Burial or cremation
- Service or direct cremation
- Religious or non-religious service
- Charity collections
- Music or readings
- Floral tributes
- Vehicles

You don't need to complete every section—this is your personal record, so include only what you wish others to know.

Please note this is not a legally binding document and cannot be used to make bequests.

Completing this pack may feel emotional. If needed, consider involving a trusted family member, friend, or advisor for support.

We hope this pack will be helpful to you and your loved ones, offering reassurance and a first step toward peace of mind.
